

FORMAL OPENING OF THE PEACE CONFERENCE

NEW ARMISTICE TERMS IN FORCE

Allied Nations Allow Germany Another Month to Meet the Conditions.

FOE ENVOYS PROTEST

Teuton Delegates Say Blockade Has Resulted in Food Conditions in Germany Daily Becoming Worse.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The commissioners at Treves have concluded their work and extended the German armistice one month.

The clauses offered by the Allies concerning agricultural implements, Russian prisoners of war, naval conditions and the restitution of material stolen by the Germans from invaded countries were signed by the enemy delegates.

Under the terms of the prolongation of the armistice Germany must deliver by Feb. 17 some 58,000 agricultural machines of various kinds.

As a guarantee for the fulfillment of the demands the Entente also reserves the right to occupy the sector of the fortifications on the right bank of the Rhine, together with a strip of territory from five to ten kilometers in front of it.

The meeting between Marshal Foch and the German delegates was featured by protests by Matthias Erzberger, representing the Germans, against the status in which Germany was left during the period of the armistice. The "financial and economic dictatorship of the Entente," was the theme of his main protest.

"When will you raise the blockade," Herr Erzberger asked. "The food conditions in Germany are daily growing worse and hunger will produce a mental state which the Allies cannot desire. Your people themselves are not proof against a world revolution."

Anxious for Peace.

"Will the Entente," he continued, "undertake binding obligations respecting the return of the German prisoners of war? When will you be in position to conclude a preliminary peace? Germany has asked six times for negotiations for a preliminary peace but has received no reply."

Herr Erzberger declared the Germans had fulfilled the terms of the armistice up to the limit of possibility. In the cases in which the terms had not been complied with the Entente was responsible, he insisted, especially so regarding the delivery of transport material.

Herr Erzberger claimed that freedom of movement had been impeded between the occupied territory and the rest of Germany and he declared that the measures taken by the Allies in Alsace-Lorraine proved that France aimed to anticipate the decision of the peace conference by annexing the provinces without respecting the right of the people to self-determination.

FRAMES NEW CONSTITUTION

German Professor Presents Plan to Elect Government.

Amsterdam, Jan. 18.—The Ebert government has under advisement a draft of a constitution for Germany prepared by Professor Pruess, according to the Ahtuhr Abendblatt of Berlin, and has agreed to the fundamentals of the proposed constitution.

The federal character of Germany will be maintained and the country will be composed of a number of free states.

At the head of the government will be a president elected for ten years.

RUSSIANS WILLING TO QUIT

Bolshevik Sends Peace Note to President Wilson.

Copenhagen, Jan. 18.—Maxim Litvinoff, the former Bolshevik ambassador at London, has sent a note to President Wilson declaring that the Bolshevik government of Russia is prepared to cease its world propaganda if the Allies will agree to enter into peace negotiations with it, according to the Social Demokraten.

SENATOR W. E. BORAH

Protests Against Secrecy at Peace Conference.

Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho addressed the senate in protest against secrecy at the peace conference. He said the question was whether President Wilson's point for open diplomacy was to be discarded entirely.

TAFT FAVORS LEAGUE

Former President Believes in Union of Nations.

Declares Organization Is Vital to Peace of World and to Uplift New Powers.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Suggestions that the United States by its entrance into a league of nations would be sharing its sovereignty as a nation were characterized as "a bugaboo which ought not to attract the support of serious men," by former President Taft in an address here before the National Geographic society.

Establishment of a league of nations, he said, is not only vital to the future peace of the world, but also to the creation of the half dozen new governments promised in President Wilson's 14 peace terms.

"We do not propose," said Mr. Taft, "to limit the freedom of action of a nation in the league to enforce peace by anything more than the rules of international law or of decency and moral conduct and good form. The sovereignty of every nation will be established by enabling the great and small nations equally to enjoy the benefits of international law without maintaining armed forces to secure their rights and prevent murder and robbery and drive off the footpads among nations."

"It is to protect the sovereignty of the smaller nations and to relieve the greater nations from the burdens of their self-protection that the league of nations is to be formed."

ASKS NEW FORTIFICATIONS

Secretary Baker Desires an Appropriation of $40,126,500.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Congress was asked by the War department to appropriate $40,126,500 for expenditures during the year beginning next July on fortifications and $27,120,100 for sundry expenses. Secretary Baker said that while these sums were additional to those to be provided by the regular army appropriation bill, they did not increase the department's total estimates of about two billion dollars.

ABOLISHES SUB-TREASURIES

House Adopts Provision in Legislative Appropriation Bill.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The "house" adopted a provision of the legislative appropriation bill directing the secretary of the treasury to abolish on July 1, next, the sub-treasuries at Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and San Francisco.

FOCH WANTS TERRITORY TO RHINE

BY WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Treves, Prussia, Jan. 16 (By Courier to Nancy).—Warning that Germany may attempt to enforce a second world war within a few years, Marshal Foch told American newspaper correspondents that France must hold the entire west bank of the Rhine to protect herself from further aggression. He called upon the allies to establish a new "watch on the Rhine."

Foch began the interview, which was granted at the conclusion of the armistice conference, with a statement of his warm appreciation of the American armies, declaring that "nobody will ever forget what America did."

"We must make peace absolute," said Foch. "Our success must guard us against future aggression. France has the right to take effective measures of protection, after her formidable efforts to save civilization. Her natural frontier, which will protect civilization, is the Rhine. It is on the Rhine we must halt the Germans. It is by using the Rhine that we must make it impossible for Germany to repeat the coup of 1914. The Rhine is a common barrier for all the allies, a guarantee of the peace of all nations."

"France is ready to safeguard the interests of mankind. Those interests are at stake on the Rhine. It is there we must prepare to obviate painful surprises of the future. Let us watch together so that we will not lose the fruits of the common victory. Let us remain united, as we were in battle."

Foch asked who could say whether Germany, where democratic ideals are so recent, will not within a few years attempt a second world war.

The marshal related several interesting incidents in connection with the Argonne drive. He said that Gen. Pershing naturally wanted his own army in his own sector. Foch told him the Argonne was a difficult country but that "your men have the devil's own punch; they'll get away with it; go to it."

"And now we are on the Rhine," Foch concluded with a grin. In answer to a question, Foch said the armistice came too soon, inasmuch as a great attack was prepared to be launched four days after the date on which hostilities ceased. But the Germans granted everything required in the armistice and it was inadvisable to continue, because of the useless waste of lives.

Imposing Ceremonies and Keynote Speech by Pres. Poincare

BY ROBERT J. BENDER,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Jan. 18.—The first sitting of the peace conference today found President Wilson a partial victor in the fight for recognition of his first principle. The gag rule which was supposed to make the sessions secret has been modified and arrangements have been made for publication under certain restrictions. It may be stated that the president will continue his fight for fuller recognition of his principles. He wants more publicity. Today's peace conference sitting was planned as a formal affair with an imposing turnout of troops, imposing ceremonies and a keynote speech by President Poincare. Long before the hour of opening crowds thronged the streets to cheer the delegates.

The King of Hedjaz, the newly recognized Arabian monarch, has been given representation.

You hold in your hands the future of the world, President Poincare of France declared in addressing the conference. Germany, he said, will rule by iron and she perished by iron.

Welcoming the delegates he thanked the nations for choosing Paris for the conference reviving war history. He dwelt especially upon the course proposed by the United States. He recommended the establishment of a league of nations.

(By United Press)

Paris, Jan. 18.—The peace conference convened for its first official sessions at 3:00 P. M. today. Delegates representing 26 nations met in the famous "clock hall" of the Quai d'Orsay. President Poincare made the opening address. The peace delegates sat at a huge horse-shoe shaped table; their secretaries at small tables nearby. This being the first session it was thrown open, and the newspaper correspondents were permitted to be present. None of the

AUSTRALIA AS AN INDEPENDENT NATION

BY JOHN DeGRANDT,
(U. P. Press Correspondent)

Paris, Jan. 18.—Australia as an independent nation has its own peace demands for consideration at the peace conference. Premier Hughes declared today, in an interview with the United Press. Australia considers that it won its independence on the battlefield, and politically it stands now where the United States stood at the end of the revolution. It is in this spirit that it enters the peace conference with its program he said.

Oil Patches Mark Grave of U-Boats Which Attacked Transport

tremendous issues of the peace settlement were to be taken up. The sitting was to be devoted to the formalities attendant to the convening of the most important gathering at which President Wilson, leading the peace delegation of the United States intended to put through his league of nations plan and other measures which he believes will end wars and make the world safe for civilization.

Formation of a definite policy toward Russia, involving possible recognition of the Russian soviet government, indemnities to be collected from Germany, final disposition of the German fleet, future of the German colonies, regulation of national boundaries, the demand of Greece for Constantinople, the disposition of the Holy Land, Ireland's demand for home rule and the proposition of self-determination, adjustment of national boundaries along racial lines, freedom of the seas and reductions of armaments were among the important questions confronting the peace makers as they assembled.

The delegates present represented all the nations associated in the war on Germany and in addition Peru, Ecuador, Uruguay and Bolivia which severed diplomatic relations with Germany. The Central Powers were not represented. When the peace treaty has been drawn up the delegates representing the German government and its former allies will be asked to sign.

When the conference starts regular proceedings, the league of nations will be the first issue taken up. This will be done at the insistence of President Wilson. Premier Clemenceau is the one who is expected to bring it up for discussion.

The delegates include the following:

United States—President Wilson, Secretary Lansing, Henry White, General Bliss.

Great Britain—Premier Lloyd-George, Foreign Secretary Balfour, Chancellor Bonar Law, George N. Barnes.

Italy—Premier Orlando, Foreign Minister Sonnino, General Diaz.

Japan—Viscount Chinda, ambassador to Great Britain; Baron Matsui, ambassador to France.

Belgium—Foreign Minister Hymans, Emile Vandervelde, minister of justice.

Greece—Premier Venizelos and Foreign Minister Politis.

Serbia—Premier Pachitch.

GOOD CITIZENS AFRAID

Bolshevism Is Spreading Rapidly in Europe.

Senator Hollis, of New Hampshire, Gives His Impressions of Recent Trip Abroad.

Washington, Jan. 18.—"Bolshevism is a very real terror to all good citizens of France. It is everywhere."

"I spent six weeks in Spain. It is there, and it is quite likely to overthrow organized government of Spain. It is in France. It is everywhere among the troops. The troops in Paris have had to be constantly shifted because the people were afraid they would run riot."

Senator Hollis of New Hampshire, made this assertion before the senate in his first public statement since he returned from a tour of several months through Europe.

Senator Hollis also said the war was not necessarily over because the armistice had been signed.

"I still feel there is very great danger that the war is not over," he said. "There is even danger of friction among the Allies. There is friction now between Italy and the Jugo Slavs."

REBEL LEADERS SLAIN IN ATTACK

Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg Killed by Mobs in Berlin, Says Basel Dispatch.

MAY REKINDLE REVOLT

Hotel in Which Pair Had Taken Refuge Is Stormed—Radical Shot Trying to Escape—Woman Beaten Until Senseless.

Zurich, Jan. 18.—The spartan revolution has been revived on a large scale in Berlin and several of the provinces, following the death of Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, it was reported in a dispatch received here. The government is expected to take violent measures in an effort to suppress the new disorders. Five new divisions of government troops have arrived in Berlin. The day gives the impression of being occupied almost entirely by soldiery.

Basel, Jan. 18.—According to the Frankfurt Gazette, Dr. Karl Liebknecht has been shot and killed while trying to escape as he was being taken to prison.

It is also reported that Rosa Luxemburg, Dr. Liebknecht's chief lieutenant, was also shot dead after being beaten into unconsciousness by a crowd at Berlin.

When it became known that Dr. Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg were at the Hotel Eden, in the western part of the city, a crowd rapidly congregated and stormed the hotel lobby to lay hands on them. Both were spirited to a side entrance, but the mob forestalled the attempt of the troops to save Fraulein Luxemburg. She was beaten into insensibility and then thrown into an automobile by the crowd, which intended to take her to prison.

A few blocks down the street, the machine was halted by a second mob and, when the presence of Fraulein Luxemburg became known, a man jumped on the running board of the car and shot her through the head. The body was dragged from the auto and carried off. It is supposed that it was thrown into the canal, but it has not been found.

In the meantime, Dr. Liebknecht was hurried into another automobile by officers and troops and the car was headed for the Moabit prison. While going through the Tiergarten, the machine was halted by a punctured tire.

Dr. Liebknecht was asked to get out by the officers, who intended to halt another automobile and continue toward the prison. While waiting, Dr. Liebknecht made an attempt to escape and was shot dead by soldiers, who had anticipated such an effort on his part.

Modified Form of Slavery.

There is no legal and formal slavery in any Christian country. It survives in a mild form in most Mohammedan countries. The peonage system of Latin-American countries is not much different from slavery, but rests upon a different theory. The peon is not supposed to be owned as property;
he is supposed to be working to pay a debt which he owes the master.

YANK LEARNS ECONOMY ON THE FRONT LINES

Tells How He Learned to Save Money, Time and Even Water.

"What have I got out of the war?
Well, let's see. . . . I believe the principal lesson I'll take back to America with me will be that of economy," writes an officer with the American army in France.

"For weeks I could go without spending a cent, and I've more money tied up in Liberty bonds and in the bank than I ever saved before on an officer's pay, about half my civilian salary.

"That economy worked in many ways. For one thing, I didn't spend a cent on foolish theaters, though I don't mean to say that all theaters
are a waste of time and money.

"Money for clothes was only a small item after you had your outfit, and we all tried to keep our kit in shape so that we would not have to be buying
new things all the time.

"We learned to organize our day so that we might economize in minutes,
and the time we allowed to ourselves
we spent with greatest efficiency. At least, our company officers did. We had profitable discussions, read a lot
and kept our minds on our work back home that we would not get too rusty.

"A good example of this general economy is the many uses to which we put one pail of water. In some camps we could only be spared one small pail of water each morning. I used this for brushing my teeth, shaving, washing, sometimes sponge-bathing—and always had enough!

"It's a question if we change when we get home. I don't think we shall,
and that's something to be hoped for."

Warm Combination.

On a cold winter day Dr. Horatio
C. Wood, Sr., noted specialist and medical writer, was chatting with his friend, the late Dr. Horace Howard Furness, the eminent Shakespearean scholar. A third man approached, whereupon, with a laugh, Doctor Wood
said: "Doctor Furness, let me present
Mr. Cole. Surely the three of us can now forget the cold."

Prominent Women Who Manage "Ole Cloes" Shop in New York's Fifth Avenue District

MRS. STANLEY LYMAN OTIS

MRS. CHARLES S. WHITMAN

Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, wife of the former governor of New York, might not want it to be put that way but she is in the "ole clothes" business. The facts are these. She is manager of what a number of prominent women call their "reclamation shop" just opened in the heart of New York's Fifth Avenue district. Associated with her is Mrs. Stanley Lyman Otis. Their purpose is to impress upon women that they must not forget the economies made necessary by wartime conditions. Volunteer women workers make old clothing, furniture and other material look just as good as new. Men discharged from military service are being outfitted at a fraction of the prices charged at men's shops.

WOMAN'S REALM

McCLARAN-SMITH NUPTIALS

Brainerd Girl, Miss Lillian Smith Married to Melville L. McClaran in Washington, D. C.

At high noon today, at St. Patrick's rectory in the city of Washington, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Lillian Colette Smith to Mr. Melville Lewis McClaran, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. McClaran of Duluth, Minnesota. The bride, a daughter of Mrs. James Smith of this city, was very charming in a Paquin model of blackberry pan velvet, chinchilla trimmed, with hat of grey georgette and corsage of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Smith's attendant, her sister Miss Gertrude Katherine, was attired in a suit of taupe broadcloth and hat of moleskin and georgette. She wore a corsage of Cecil Bruner roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Mr. McClaran was attended by Captain A. S. Dunning of Duluth.

The ceremony was followed by a luncheon at the New Willard, at which the following guests were present: Misses Gertrude K. Smith and Bertha T. Mahlum of this city; the Misses Vivian Reilly and Marion Anderson of Detroit, Minn.; Miss Lillian Morey, Captain A. S. Dunning and B. M. Dougherty of Duluth; Captain Robert H. Kellier of Boston, and Captain James Forrestal and Lowry Smith of St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. McClaran departed on the four o'clock Congressional Limited for New York City, where they will remain for several days, after which they will go by boat to Florida. After spending several weeks there at the McClaran home, Mr. and Mrs. McClaran will return to Duluth, their future home.

"COFFEES" A SUCCESS

Ladies of Finnish Circle, American Red Cross, Obtain Tidy Sum From Socials

The series of "coffees" conducted by the ladies of the Finnish Circle, American Red Cross in Southeast Brainerd during the past year have proven not only pleasant social affairs but a financial success as well. They have collected through this avenue the sum of $150.77 for Red Cross work. Of this amount, $21.68 was spent to send Christmas boxes to Finnish boys engaged in the war, the balance being turned in to the Brainerd Chapter as a benefit fund.

The "coffees" were held at different homes in the neighborhood under the supervision of Mrs. E. Ritari and Mrs. Andrew Karhu and have done much to continue the interest in the work, as they brought together prominent Finnish ladies who have been active in Red Cross circles during the year.

Cudney-Sorenson

Miss LuVerne G. Cudney and Martin Sorenson were married on Saturday noon at the Swedish Lutheran parsonage by Rev. Eloy G. Carlson, witnesses to the pleasing ceremony being the Misses Amy Erickson and Kate Cudney. They are popular young people and will make their home in Brainerd.

Entertains at Cards

Mrs. C. A. Lagerquist entertained several Degree of Honor ladies at cards last evening. Prizes were won by Miss Emma Reinhardt and Mrs. M. DeRocher. A delicious supper was served and all voted Mrs. Lagerquist a delightful entertainer.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Sunday

Olive Tell, who will be seen as the star in "Secret Strings," the Metro play which will be the attraction at the Best theatre on Sunday, is considered one of the most exquisitely gowned women on the American stage and fully lives up to this reputation in her wardrobe used in this play.

"Secret Strings" is a picture of the summertime so her dresses are of the sports and garden variety, although she is seen in a stunning street gown of blue tricot. Two of her evening frocks are worth mentioning—one, a black filet-lace heavily embroidered, which is draped loosely over black satin and caught up at the side with a red poppy, the other, a white filmy net over silver cloth with which she wears a magnificent rope of real pearls. Both gowns are the latest of New York styles designed by a famous modiste of that city.

Marie Wainwright, who plays the part of Mrs. de Giles is also notable for beautiful clothes, and as the stately matron of the production her brocades and laces, not to mention the jewels which she wears, suggest richness and extreme good taste.

Drama League Meeting

Delayed on account of the "flu" ban, the first meeting of the Drama League was held this week at the home of Mrs. Irma Hartley.

Mrs. Ray Gould was elected secretary, and the question of whether or not the dues should be decreased on account of the late start was quickly disposed of by all members present paying their yearly dues of one dollar promptly and cheerfully.

The club then voted to offer a prize of five dollars for the best one-act farce presented by April first, 1919, no limit being placed on age, residence or previous condition of training of contestants.

The drama read was "Madam Sand," by Philip Moeller. Before beginning the drama, Mrs. A. D. Polk read a most discriminating paper on the life and work of this noted and notorious genius, whose numerous affairs of the heart seemed to serve to stimulate her literary output. Mrs. Polk summed up the estimate placed upon George Sand's work by the critics and contemporaries of her time and concluded that Mr. Moeller's play did her scant justice.

The following is the program for the balance of the year:

Jan. 27—"Misalliance" (Bernard Shaw)—Mesdames R. J. and Irma Hartley.

Feb. 10—Talk on "The Negro Players"—Mrs. G. W. Mosier.

"Granny Maumee" (Ridgely Torrence)—Mrs. C. L. Burnett.

Feb. 24—"Karen Boreman" (Hjalmar Bergstrom)—Mrs. Gemmell and Mrs. Thabes.

March 10—"The Witching Hour" (Thomas)—Mesdames F. A. Farrar and R. R. Gould.

March 24—"Fannies First Play" (Shaw)—Mesdames F. H. Simpson and G. S. Swanson.

April 7—"The Newly Married" (Bjornson)—Mesdames R. A. Beise and Carl Zapffe.

"A Gauntlet" (Bjornson)—Mrs. Geo. LaBar.

April 21—An original farce.

If there are any members who wish to withdraw from the club, please notify the secretary, so that those on the waiting list can be elected at the next meeting.

SECRECY EDICT HELD UP

Correspondents May Be Admitted to Peace Council Sessions.

At Instance of President Wilson Rule to Bar Newspaper Men Is Held in Abeyance.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The Supreme Inter-Allied council, at the instance of President Wilson, has decided to hold in abeyance the proposed rule for virtual secrecy regarding its deliberations beyond information given in official statements.

It was also decided to request representatives of the British, American and Italian press to present some plan for reporting the meetings.

It was said in American circles here that the stir caused by the previous action was not at all unwelcome to the British and American officials who were willing to work for a broader rule which would open the proceedings to public view.

British correspondents adopted resolutions asking that one British press representative be admitted to sittings of the congress. Americans correspondents also adopted resolutions declaring they would be satisfied with nothing less than free access to all deliberations.

These resolutions were brought before a meeting at which were present representatives of the press from all the nations associated in the war against Germany. A committee was appointed to report a plan of reporting the deliberations which will be presented to the peace delegates. The proposition to make details of the meeting of correspondents secret was rejected.

FRENCH DENY CENSORSHIP

News Dispatches Allowed to Go to Allied Nations.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The semi-official Temps, regarding the question of publicity of the proceedings of the peace conference, says the French censor is exercising no control over news destined for the Allied or the associated countries.

"Certain dispatches sent from Paris to American newspapers," it remarks, "insinuate that the French government exercises control over all news relative to the conference and over all means of communication with other countries. These allegations are erroneous."

Start Rally Against Bolshevism.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—With the elections to the national assembly less than four days off the Bourgeois parties are bending every effort to rally both male and female voters in a gigantic protest against bolshevism. Two weeks ago the indications pointed to a comfortable majority for the social democrats with the aid of the votes of both Scheidemann and the Haase party. The spartan abolition in Berlin, however, has brought about a revision of the election estimates.

Arnold could not bear to have anything that smacked of femininity applied to himself or his tiny baby brother. One day Arnold was keeping his eye on the baby carriage while the mother stepped into the apartment. A woman passing looked into the carriage and seeing the infant said: "Isn't she a sweet child?" Arnold, indignant, replied: "He ain't no she; it's a him."

Praises Women Rail Workers.

Washington, Jan. 18.—High praise for women railroad employees is contained in the annual report of the Railroad administration's division of labor, directed by W. S. Carter, made public. Between January 1 and October 1 last year the number of women workers on American railroads increased from 60,000 to 101,000, constituting about five per cent of the 2,000,000 rail employees. Practically all of these are anxious to remain permanently, officials report.

An Improvement.

A young guardsman called the other day on a certain financier, who insisted on showing him over his magnificent private house, informing him not only where he purchased every article in it but the price he paid for it. When he had finished he asked his visitor if he could suggest any improvement in the arrangement of the house. "Well," was the reply, "if you were to mark all the goods in plain figures it would save you a good deal of trouble."

EXTEND FRENCH BORDER TO RHINE

Marshal Foch Wants River as Barrier Between Germany and France.

PRAISES YANK TROOPS

Allied Commander-in-Chief Receives American Newspaper Correspondents After Negotiating New Armistice Terms.

Treves, Jan. 18.—Marshal Foch entertains the conviction that the Rhine must be made the barrier between Germany and France. He made this clear when he received American newspaper correspondents.

The marshal is here in connection with the meeting concerning the extension of the German armistice. Marshal Foch pointed out the difficulties that had been overcome and said that peace must be commensurate with the price of victory. Germany now was beaten, he added, but with her resources, especially in men, recuperation in a comparatively short time was possible. It was now the duty of the Allies, he said, to prevent further aggressions.

Marshal Foch praised the work of the American troops and said that General Pershing had asked that the American forces be concentrated for an attack on one sector. The Allied generalissimo admitted that the Argonne-Meuse front, where the Americans began their offensive on September 26, was a "sector hard to tackle." The marshal said he had told General Pershing: "Your men have the devil's own punch. They will get away with all that. Go to it."

Truce Did Not Come Too Soon.

The armistice was not concluded too soon and the Allies got all they asked for from Germany without continuing the fighting. The Allies, the marshal said, were prepared for another offensive stroke which would have forced the Germans to give up. This was to have been made in Lorraine on November 14, with six American and 20 French divisions.

"This is for me," Marshal Foch began, "a happy opportunity to tell you all the good things I think of the American army and of the part it played on our side. Your soldiers were enthusiastic and carried forward by a vigorous idealism, they marched to battle with admirable gallantry."

"Yes, they were superb. There is no other word. When they appeared our armies were, as you know, fatigued by three years of relentless struggle and the mantle of war laid heavily upon them. We were magnificently comforted by the virility of your Americans."

TROUBLE BREWING IN SPAIN

Premier Romanones Says Barcelona Is Storm Center.

Madrid, Jan. 18.—Premier Romanones after a meeting of the Spanish cabinet, told the newspaper correspondents that he would not be surprised at anything which would happen in Barcelona. The cabinet, he said, had discussed the situation in Barcelona, which was quite abnormal. Count Romanones informed the cabinet that the trouble at Barcelona arose from the hostility of the Nationalists to the military and the latter's refusal to tolerate Nationalist disturbances.

WESTERN SIBERIA SUFFERS

Doctors, Nurses and Medical Supplies Are Sorely Needed.

Vladivostok, Jan. 18.—There is urgent need for doctors, nurses and medical supplies in Western Siberia, declared Dr. Arthur Rudolph Fousler, head of the Czechoslovak medical service, who arrived here from Ekaterinburg and Omsk. The spread of typhus and the coming of 200,000 Russian soldiers formerly imprisoned in Austria and Germany, the doctor said, will tax every agency to the utmost.

Accidents On Great Lakes.

Detroit, Jan. 18.—Anxiety to put forth maximum efforts in the transportation of commodities necessary for the winning of the war was probably responsible for the unusually large number of accidents on the Great Lakes during the 1918 navigation season, according to the annual report of the advisory committee of the Great Lakes Protective association, which presented at the recent meeting of the association here.

DAILY HEALTH TALKS

What Doctor Pierce Has Done For Humanity!

BY DOCTOR CRIPPS.

It has always seemed to me that Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., should be placed near the top when a list of America's great benefactors is written. He studied and conquered human diseases to a degree that few realize. Whenever he found a remedy that overcame disease, he at once announced it in the newspapers and told where it could be bought at a small price. He did not follow the usual custom of keeping the ingredients secret, so that the rich only could afford to buy the medicine, but openly printed the name of each root and herb he used. And so to-day the names of Dr. Pierce and his medicines are widely known, and they stand for better health and better citizenship.

One of this great physician's most successful remedies is known as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These are little, sugar-coated pills, composed of Mayapple, leaves of aloes, root of jalap—things that Nature grows in the ground. These Pellets are safe because they move the bowels gently, leaving no bad after-effects, as so many pills do. Very often they make a person who takes them feel like a new man or woman, for they cleanse the intestines of hard, decayed and poisonous matter that accumulates when one is constipated. If you are constipated, by all means go to your druggist and get some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They may prove to be the very thing your system requires to make you well and happy.

second appearance of the Lord Jesus Christ. If you are looking for more light on this important subject, you will be greatly helped by attending the services. P. Alfred Peterson, pastor.

Complete Action.

Papa—Bobby, if you had a little more spunk you would stand better in your class. Now, do you know what spunk is?

Bobby—Yes, sir. It's the past participle of spunk.

Making Him Feel Better.
"There's a man outside who says he's your tailor and wants to see you about a bill."

"Tell him I've gone to attend the funeral of a rich relative from whom I expect to inherit a great deal of money."

"Have you lost a relative, sir?"
"No; but that fellow has been here so many times I feel I ought to say something that will make him feel better."

Important Consideration.
"Would you say that she is good-looking?"
"That depends."
"On what?"
"On whether I was speaking of her face or her face."

The Paramount Interest.
"Hunter tells me he's going to marry an heiress. I asked what her age was, and he couldn't say."
"My boy, it isn't her age Hunter is interested in; it's her heritage."

The Thorny Path of Love.
Gert—Mayme complains that her feet's love is like a red, red rose.
Myrt—Gee, that's funny; ain't it true and all that sort of thing?
Gert—Oh, yes, but the trouble is it makes him stick around.

Why Delay?
"Take this medicine," said the young doctor. "If it doesn't cure you, come back in a few days and I shall give you something that will." The patient pocketed the dope reluctantly. In a few moments he returned. "If you don't mind, doc, I'll take some of that that will cure me right away."

NO TROUBLE SINCE

Mr. Ellison's Statement is Most Convincing Evidence

When Mr. Ellison endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills he told of having received complete relief. Now Mr. Ellison tells how years have passed without any return of kidney trouble. Results that last are results that count. Brainerd people should gain by the experience of Chas. Ellison, 512 So. Quince St. He says: "My kidneys were disordered for several years and I seemed to gradually get worse. Nearly a year ago I was taken with awful pains in my back. I had to stop work and go to bed. Medicine patched me up somewhat and I got out in a few weeks but still had the old trouble and suffered severely. I began to take Doan's Kidney Pills and a few boxes put me in good shape. I could then work comfortably."

On November 5, 1917, Mr. Ellison said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me some years ago is still permanent. I am glad to again recommend them."

Price, 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ellison had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv't.

Do Something Better Than the Other Fellow---
and ADVERTISE
Advertising cannot accomplish the impossible any more than barren ground can yield rich crop.
But how advertising does make things hum when the product and proposition are right, the men and methods above board, when there's an honest purpose and earnest effort from bundle boy to general manager to serve efficiency, to deal honestly, to sell good goods, to price fairly.
Oil up the machinery of your business, imbue your organization with the spirit of true service, make your business worthy of the good will, the confidence, the patronage of the people.
In this fertile field then sow the seed of advertising and it will bring forth abundant crops in increased business and augmented prestige.

CHIEF JOHN D. GILE IN MIDNIGHT EXPLOIT

Summoned by Mayor to Take Bank Robber from Train Friday Night, Goes Heavily Armed

WAS ROUTED OUT OF BED

Surprise of His Life When the Chief and the Rest of the Department Gain the Coach

It was near the midnight hour Friday night when the telephone at Chief John D. Gile's home gave a regular tattoo of noise and awoke the head of the police force who had just turned in for a decent sleep and had got his pillow comfortably warmed up.

He hopped out of bed on one foot and made for the phone and this conversation took place:

"Is this you, John?" asked Mayor R. A. Beise.

"Yes," said the chief.

"Well," continued the mayor, "go right down to the night train from St. Paul. There's a bank robber on board. Take your gun and handcuffs along and don't fail to land the man."

"You can count on me," said the chief. "I'll never let him get away."

The chief had but 15 minutes left to get dressed, make the train and line up the rest of the force which included Officer Scott armed with two rapid firing Colts and Officer L. Dow with his club and gun.

They made the depot platform and surrounded the train when it came in. The chief saw the conductor and he said the robber was in the last day coach. The brakie corroborated that testimony.

With Scott at one end of the car, Ludlow at the other to guard exits, the chief walked down the aisle with his gun ready for action. He passed a group of traveling men and others and they whispered "There he is down at the end of the coach."

The chief marched on and somebody grabbed his arm and said quietly: "Hello, Dad!" It was a fellow in uniform, his own son, coming home on furlough.

Then the Brainerd crowd in the car which included C. W. Mahlum, Fritz Hagberg, George West and others roared out:

"Well, you caught the man!"

It was all a joke perpetrated by the Brainerd fellows on the train returning from St. Paul who met Mr. Gile's son, John B. Gile, returning home on a 15 days' furlough. Young Gile is a boilermaker who learned the trade in Brainerd and then put in time in Staples and there enlisted when war was declared. He has served 19 months on a torpedo boat, the Jarvis, which saw a lot of the war. In one encounter with a sub the Jarvis had 25 feet of her nose torn off and managed to make shore.

After the signing of the armistice Gile was on a dispatch boat running from Dover to Brest. He recently returned to the Philadelphia navy yards and there got his furlough.

At St. Paul he met the Brainerd men on their way home and they said some kind of a joke had to be played on his father. So County Auditor C. W. Mahlum evoked the bank robber hoax and at Little Falls telephoned to Mayor Beise to rout out the boilermaker's father. It was done and most successfully too.

Young Gile has a whole satchel full of souvenirs. He took snap shots during the war and they are all most interesting. He saw the German fleet surrendered and has many pictures of the ships.

He presented his father with a ring and tie stickpin he made out of silver coin. He gave his mother two fifty dollar bills. All together it was a happy homecoming and the way it was announced and brought dad down to the train to greet his sailor man will not be forgotten for a long time.

IN DISTRICT COURT

In district court before Judge W. S. McClellan the case of Charles McDonald vs. the Cuyuna Range Power Co. was dismissed on motion of the defendant, following a lengthy argument by Attorney F. E. Ebner that the plaintiff had failed to establish a cause of action.

McDonald had shed for $25,000, personal damages, alleging he had fallen down a trench on lands of the power company while walking along a path on such land. The trench was some three or four feet from the path. Charles Scrutchin of Bemidji, colored attorney, represented McDonald.

Court then adjourned to Monday morning. In the next case, Alfred Lambert vs. Unity Lodge No. 194, a corporation, Attorney W. H. Crowell for the defense, was sick at his home and it is expected to take up the case later by the court.

N. P. DEPOT PICTURE AT CHAMBER COMMERCE

W. H. Gemmell has placed an exhibition in the reading room of the Chamber of Commerce, a picture showing the track side elevation of the new passenger station to be constructed in Brainerd in the spring; also photographs showing exterior and interior views of the new Jamestown station, which show in a general way what the general appearance of the fine building that will soon accommodate the traveling public of Brainerd, will be.

The new depot will occupy a site extending from Sixth St. west to Fourth street, north of the tracks, such a location doing away with any blocking of crossings by trains in that section of the business district.

The building will measure 40 by 162 feet in size and be virtually three stories and basement. Porches at east and west ends will measure 40 by 36 feet.

30 INDICTED ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Duluth, Jan. 18—Thirty more indictments, all for violation of the government liquor laws, were returned by the grand jury in the United States district court at Duluth.

Among those pleading guilty were Vinko Vinkolich, Rinko Zerich and Joseph Caron.

Pleas of not guilty were entered by Arthur Lovdahl, Vaso Radosovich, Joseph Bolenic, Mike M. Brown, John Coff, Rose Dunovich, Mike Stimich, Victoria Stimich.

Indicted and still to be arraigned are John Hagen, Nels Johnson, Frank LaGrave.

ALLOTMENT GIVEN FOR ROAD WORK

Crow Wing county has received an allotment of $22,000 from the state for road work. Nearby counties drew larger sums, Aitkin county being $32,500; Cass, $30,000; Beltrami, $27,500; St. Louis, $50,000; Itasca, $28,000.

NEW ERA MOVEMENT

Rev. W. J. Lowrie, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Delegate to Minneapolis Convention

The pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. J. Lowrie, returned from Minneapolis Thursday evening where he had been as a delegate to the conference of the New Era Movement held in the Westminster church. There were about five hundred ministers and laymen in attendance from four states, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

This movement is the result of the world war and its task is to unite the 1,631,000 Presbyterians in the U. S. in a close fellowship for the great aims of the church. It is essentially a spiritual force for the cultivating of personal and home religion, reviving the family altar, sending the gospel to the nations far and wide, and administering practical comfort and aid to those in need. "The World for Christ" is the inscription on its banner.

The movement proposes to raise $15,000,000 for benevolences this year and $27,000,000 for local church expenses. Its budget is $40,000,000 for the year. This is not a very much larger sum than was raised last year by the church for its missions, hospitals, orphanages, academies, colleges and local work but it seems a great sum because placed in one budget. Mr. Lowrie was placed in charge of the work in Red River Presbytery.

LIEUT. GERALD BARRON WRITES FROM FRANCE

Tells John J. Cummins it's Good to Sit Down and Write After the Boche Has Been Trimmed

SPECIAL DUTY INSTRUCTOR

Missed the Final Drive on Metz by a Couple of Hours, Were to be in Assaulting Wave

Lieut. Gerald V. Barron, writing from Laneuville, France, to John J. Cummins, says:

Laneuville, France, Nov. 25, 1918.

Dear Friend John:

It seems good to be able to sit down (now that the Boche is trimmed) and write to my old friends that fit across my vision as I smoke the old pipe by a real French fireplace on these raw November evenings.

I am not with my company at present but on special duty as divisional instructor in French mortars in the town of Laneuville about eight kilometers (5 miles) from the city of Toul. Rolly is here as instructor in machine gun work so we get together frequently.

Since my arrival in France have traveled many miles over the country, seen service on the Belfort front and missed the final drive on Metz by a matter of hours. We had orders on the night of the tenth of November to proceed to Thiaucourt about 20 miles southwest of Metz.

We were to be in support of a brigade of the 7th division and later to move forward effecting a passage of lines to form the assaulting wave. The armistice was signed the morning of the 11th but the night of the 10th we slept "light" ready to step out on a moment's notice carrying only "cats" and "shooting stuff."

Up to eleven o'clock on the 11th we could hear the roar of the Yank batteries up in the line giving old Fritz the parting send-off and believe me, Jack, it was some send-off. Seemed as though the Yank gunners were bound to let the Hun have everything they had left in the ammunition dumps. Promptly at the stroke of eleven the firing ceased as if by magic all along the line. Then in a few moments the news was flashed by wireless that the Boche had yelled "Quit."

The bells in the town hall pealed out, the church bells in the old towers picked it up and everybody turned out and celebrated, although it was hard to realize that it was over. The same thought was in everybody's mind, "I'd sure like to be in old New York today!"

Some of you may be interested in knowing how our national army compares with the old regular army and National Guard. I have seen every type of soldier the American army has and the National Army men don't take their hat off to any of them. Of course they were green to start with but they learned fast and maybe we didn't get a swell bunch of non-coms out of that bunch. There is no more distinction now between the different regiments. The old regular army units have long ago been filled up with National Army replacement troops and the same applies to the Guard. But the traditions of the old Regular didn't suffer by the infusion of the new blood. The American soldier of today is recognized as the best fighting man the Allies have.

He is crazy to fight, show him where the fight is and he'll do the rest. It's easy to lead a bunch like that. They'd go to hell in a minute for you if they knew the Boche were there—and believe me, they'd make it hot for him!

We are all anxious to get back again in God's country but all realize there's lots to be done over here yet and I know we'll appreciate the old U. S. more for every day we stay here. France has always been painted as a land of romance and sunshine, but we've found that the sun never shines and the "doughboy" can't see any romance in the oceans of mud which cover every street.

Saw Sam English at Toul last week. I was down with a detail to officiate at the funeral of Lieut. Edward Murphy of Two Harbors, Minn., who was killed by a piece of shrapnel from a French mortar shell here. Sam was looking fine and it sure seemed good to see him.

Well Jack, greet the old bunch for me. This ought to reach you about Xmas. Merry Xmas to you and all the old bunch and sure would appreciate a letter.

Flowers as Timekeepers.

The dandelions open in the morning and close in the evening at the same time every day. The hawk weed of your's beard are quite as regular, the right subjects were planted in the field, no doubt, be possible to have a lot of flowers that would tell the exact hour of the day from sunrise to sunset.

LIEUT. HENRY C. MILLS

In a letter to the Dispatch, 1st Lieut. Henry C. Mills, Co. L, 351st Infantry, A. E. F., A. P. O. 795, writes from Paris:

"Thought it might be of interest to you to know the wide circulation the Brainerd Dispatch news has. I cut the attached article out of the London Daily Mail an English paper printed in Paris:

Brainerd, Minn.—Papers are being circulated here for the nomination of Mr. Ezra Smith for municipal judge.

"Brainerd and its sand will look good to me after wading in French mud since I arrived in this country. Am on a short leave of absence and going to Lyon and Nice, after which I will go to Germany with no news of going home. Kindest regards."

PVT. ANTON SWANSON WILL SOON BE HOME

Writes of the Glowing Reception Given the Regiment When They Arrived at Chicago

ENTERTAINED AT CLEVELAND

Red Cross Fed Them and Was Good to the Boys all Along the Route, Men Now at Camp Grant

In his letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Swanson, 901 South Sixth street, Private Anton Swanson, Brainerd Dispatch printer, who served in the war in Europe and is now on his way back to demobilization camp, pays a high tribute to what the Red Cross is doing in meeting returning soldiers on the trains.

And this reception, by the way, is not confined to the large cities alone, towns the size of Staples are meeting returning soldiers on all trains and giving them refreshments.

Private Swanson writes from Camp Grant, Ill., Jan. 14th:

"Well, here I am in this camp after a fine trip from Camp Mills in Pullman sleepers. It's the same old camp where we started from and the place we will get out of the army."

"You ought to have seen the time we had in Chicago January 13. They sure did show us a great time. We got there at 8 in the morning and went to the Coliseum where we stayed until 11. We paraded around the town and you ought to have seen the people. There were 22 bands along the route and all the schools were yelling their songs and with that and the whistles tooting there was some noise.

"We were met after the parade by the Chicago city band and went to the Hotel Sherman where we had a four course dinner, and entertainment by some of Chicago's singers, etc. They gave us cigars and cigarettes after dinner, so we all smoked and sang songs. From there we went to the Schubert theatre where there was a fine play and we all enjoyed it.

After the show back to the hotel for supper, more entertainment, cigars and cigarettes. The Chicago city band played when we were eating. There was a speaker that gave us a great speech and he sure was good. He told them what Germany was.

"We then went to the Coliseum, where there was a big dance for the soldiers and we sure had a good time until 11 o'clock. The Red Cross was there and gave us coffee, doughnuts, coffee cake, ice cream, lemonade, pie, candy, cigarettes until the fellows couldn't eat any more and then they had their pockets full of good stuff. It was a great day and we all gave three cheers for the Red Cross, the Rotary Club of Chicago. Believe me, the Red Cross is the one to help as they are all over.

"At Cleveland the night before we got off the train where we got coffee, pie, cookies and candy, so you see they are all over.

"We got on the Pullman sleepers last night at about 1 o'clock and we all were pretty tired, so we went right to sleep, believe me. Got up this morning at 7 and were here at Camp Grant.

"I heard we are going to parade in Rockford, Ill., one of these days and that means more good things. The reason why the big time was for us, was that most of the fellows in this regiment live in Chicago and lots of them met their folks at the Coliseum, so there was a happy bunch.

"The weather here is fine and I hope it keeps up as we are not used to cold weather. When we left Bordeaux everything was green and the flowers were blooming. I suppose it's kind of cold at home and the old heater going. These barracks are steam heated and nice and warm.

"I don't know how long we will be here, but it won't be long, I guess. The papers in Chicago say we will be

Pneumonia Menace

This dreadful sickness has claimed thousands of victims every winter. It usually is an after effect of a cold and naturally is most common at this time of year when colds are prevalent.

People are careless. They think they have to have colds and so take them as a matter of course. But colds indicate a serious situation. They show that the lungs, kidneys and skin pores are being overworked to dispose of poisons created by fermenting food-waste due to constipation. If they only would keep the bowels active and open this condition would not exist and the danger would be vastly less.

Your druggist has a new, really pleasant tasting salt called SALINOS, which will completely empty the digestive bowel, where most of the poisons are formed. It is pleasant both in taste and action. Get a bottle for a Quarter (larger size Fifty cents and a Dollar). BE SAFE! Take SALINOS first thing tomorrow morning.

DON'T CARE MUCH WHO IS SPEAKER

CONGRESSMEN DISPLAY LITTLE INTEREST IN THE MANN-GIL-LETT CONTEST.

PLACE SHORN OF ITS POWER

Delegate Wickersham Winner of Alaska Election Contest, Gets Busy at Once—Representatives Putting in Orders for German Cannon.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—There is a lagging interest in the contest for speaker. In fact there is little evidence of any such contest, which is contrary to the condition that usually exists when a speaker is to be elected and two or more candidates are in the field. There is a mention from time to time that certain delegations have promised to vote for Mr. Mann and that other members are pledged to Mr. Gillett. The fact is that since the speaker was shorn of much of his power the members care very little who sits up in the high chair. No longer is the selection of members of the various committees in the hands of the speaker. That reform was made eight years ago by the Democrats and it is certain that the Republicans will never go back to the old style and give the speaker the command which he exercised over the affairs of the house through the power to appoint committees and also to control legislation by dominating the committee on rules. Those reforms have come to stay and as a consequence the members do not care very much who is speaker.

In the hurly-burly of war times the country has forgotten the big campaign upon which it entered for the building of roads with national government aid. In all probability this subject will again come to the front. In fact there are rumblings of good roads legislation heard in committees of congress and occasionally a bill is reported having for its object the favorable action by the government on road legislation.

Jim Mann is much the same as ever, and it is evident that he has regained his health. He is in the house every day and takes part in everything that goes on. He does not talk as much or as often as he did in other days, but he lets nothing go through that he does not inquire about or upon which he does not express his views.

Delegate Wickersham of Alaska wasted no time after winning his election contest. That contest had been pending during the whole time of the Sixty-fifth congress and was decided in Wickersham's favor when only two months were left of the life of the congress. Wickersham was sworn in a few minutes after the house decided in his favor, and introduced a resolution the next day. He did not enjoy an official status while his fight was on, and he will now be entitled to about $14,000 back pay, as well as mileage and other allowances, and mileage at 20 cents per mile each way between Alaska and Washington is a tidy sum.

Congressmen are putting in their orders for the spoils of war while the time is ripe. In two days recently 27 members of the house introduced bills providing for the distribution of a total of 147 German cannon to various towns, colleges and organizations in their districts. Some of these congressmen asked for only one or two cannon. They have not hit their stride yet. One of them introduced bills accounting for 41 guns. A couple of others put in bids for 25 each. The same thing occurred after the Civil war. Hundreds of towns all over the country have Civil war cannon on their public squares today. Those old pieces make a better appearance than the new ones will, and there will be no picturesque round cannon balls to go with the spoils of this war.

The civil service commission is urging that war workers who are being laid off now shall be employed by the census bureau in conducting the 1920 census. That would be a temporary solution of what to do with these war workers, most of whom have the status of regular, permanent government employees, but the 1920 census will not require a large force very long. However, it would give the government several months in which to try to figure out some other way of making provision for the war workers.

English Underground Canal. The most remarkable canal in the world is the one between Worsley and St. Helen's, in the north of England. It is 16 miles long and underground from end to end. In Lancashire the coal mines are very extensive, half the county being undermined. Many years ago the managers of the duke of Bridgewater's estates thought they could save money by transporting coal underground instead of on the surface; therefore, the canal was constructed and the mines connected and drained at the same time. Ordinary canal boats are used, the power being furnished by men, says an exchange. The tunnel arch over the canal is provided with crosspieces, and the men who do the work of propulsion lie on their backs on the loads of coal and push their feet against the cross-bars of the roof.

CANADIAN OFFICER SHOWS SOME SPEED

Standing on the parapet of a trench, the last surviving man of his party, with machine gun bullets dropping like hail around him, Lieut. Frank Badgley of the Canadian field artillery was responsible for the success of the Canadians in the fight for Regina trench during the battle of the Somme on November 30, 1916, and was decorated by King George with the Military Cross. Yet only a few days ago, when it came to asking a beautiful young lady to be his bride, the gallant Canadian faltered.

The signing of the armistice and the victory had, however, seemingly spurred the lieutenant to further efforts, for on the night of the ball, Miss June Elvidge, a well-known moving picture star, looked so radiantly beautiful that the lieutenant summoned up all his courage and asked her to be his bride, and within 44 hours Miss Elvidge had changed her name to Mrs. Badgley.

Protect Your Car From Freezing

DON'T worry all winter about your radiator freezing. Use Johnson's Freeze-Proof—then forget there is such a thing as a frozen radiator. Johnson's Freeze-Proof does not evaporate, so one application lasts all winter.

JOHNSON'S FREEZE-PROOF

is easy to use—is non-inflammable—inexpensive and guaranteed. It raises the boiling point of water 20° to 40°.

Read This Guarantee!

We guarantee that Johnson's Freeze-Proof has no more effect than water on the metals of the radiator or on rubber.

If Johnson's Freeze-Proof is used according to the simple directions in the proportion shown on our scale, it will absolutely protect your radiator against damage from freezing.

We do not guarantee Johnson's Freeze-Proof when used in cars with aluminum manifolds, although it has been used satisfactorily in hundreds of them. Water alone often has an injurious effect on aluminum.

Directions Must Be Followed

Johnson's Freeze-Proof will give perfect satisfaction if used according to the directions on the label. It requires just a little time and care to comply with these instructions—then your worry is over for the whole winter.

1st—Clean all dirt, scale, sediment, etc., from the cooling system by using a boiling solution of ordinary washing soda. Flush out thoroughly.

2nd—Repair all leaks. Unless hose connections are new, replace them. Tighten all packing and gaskets.

Don't let cold weather catch you unprepared—buy Johnson's Freeze-Proof now—read and follow the directions carefully—and get your cooling system in shape for the long, hard winter.

$1.50 Protects a Ford

One package of Johnson's Freeze-Proof (cost $1.50) will protect a Ford to 5° below zero, and two packages to 50° below zero. For larger radiators, or to protect to a lower temperature, use additional Freeze-Proof according to the scale on the package.

FORMAL OPENING OF THE PEACE CONFERENCE

NEW ARMISTICE
TERMS IN FORCE

Allied Nations Allow Germany Another Month to Meet the Conditions.

FOE ENVOYS PROTEST

Teuton Delegates Say Blockade Has Resulted in Food Conditions in Germany Daily Becoming Worse.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The commissioners at Treves have concluded their work and extended the German armistice one month.

The clauses offered by the Allies concerning agricultural implements, Russian prisoners of war, naval conditions and the restitution of material stolen by the Germans from invaded countries were signed by the enemy delegates.

Under the terms of the prolongation of the armistice Germany must deliver by Feb. 17 some 58,000 agricultural machines of various kinds.

As a guarantee for the fulfillment of the demands the Entente also reserves the right to occupy the sector of the fortifications on the right bank of the Rhine, together with a strip of territory from five to ten kilometers in front of it.

The meeting between Marshal Foch and the German delegates was featured by protests by Matthias Erzberger, representing the Germans, against the status in which Germany was left during the period of the armistice. The "financial and economic dictatorship of the Entente," was the theme of his main protest.

"When will you raise the blockade," Herr Erzberger asked. "The food conditions in Germany are daily growing worse and hunger will produce a mental state which the Allies cannot desire. Your people themselves are not proof against a world revolution."

Anxious for Peace. "Will the Entente," he continued, "undertake binding obligations respecting the return of the German prisoners of war? When will you be in position to conclude a preliminary peace? Germany has asked six times for negotiations for a preliminary peace but has received no reply."

Herr Erzberger declared the Germans had fulfilled the terms of the armistice up to the limit of possibility. In the cases in which the terms had not been complied with the Entente was responsible, he insisted, especially so regarding the delivery of transport material.

Herr Erzberger claimed that freedom of movement had been impeded between the occupied territory and the rest of Germany and he declared that the measures taken by the Allies in Alsace-Lorraine proved that France aimed to anticipate the decision of the peace conference by annexing the provinces without respecting the right of the people to self-determination.

At the head of the government will be a president elected for ten years.

TAFT FAVORS LEAGUE

Former President Believes in Union of Nations.

Declares Organization Is Vital to Peace of World and to Uphold New Powers.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Suggestions that the United States by its entrance into a league of nations would be sharing its sovereignty as a nation were characterized as "a bugaboo which ought not to attract the support of serious men," by former President Taft in an address here before the National Geographic society.

Establishment of a league of nations, he said, is not only vital to the future peace of the world, but also to the creation of the half dozen new governments promised in President Wilson's 14 peace terms.

"We do not propose," said Mr. Taft, "to limit the freedom of action of a nation in the league to enforce peace by anything more than the rules of international law or of decency and moral conduct and good form. The sovereignty of every nation will be established by enabling the great and small nations equally to enjoy the benefits of international law without maintaining armed forces to secure their rights and prevent murder and robbery and drive off the footpads among nations."

"It is to protect the sovereignty of the smaller nations and to relieve the greater nations from the burdens of their self-protection that the league of nations is to be formed."

ASKS NEW FORTIFICATIONS

FOCH WANTS TERRITORY TO RHINE

BY WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Treves, Prussia, Jan. 16 (By Courier to Nancy).—Warning that Germany may attempt to enforce a second world war within a few years, Marshal Foch told American newspaper correspondents that France must hold the entire west bank of the Rhine to protect herself from further aggression. He called upon the allies to establish a new "watch on the Rhine."

Foch began the interview, which was granted at the conclusion of the armistice conference, with a statement of his warm appreciation of the American armies, declaring that "nobody will ever forget what America did."

"We must make peace absolute," said Foch. "Our success must guard us against future aggression. France has the right to take effective measures of protection, after her formidable efforts to save civilization. Her natural frontier, which will protect civilization, is the Rhine. It is on the Rhine we must halt the Germans. It is by using the Rhine that we must make it impossible for Germany to repeat the coup of 1914. The Rhine is a common barrier for all the allies, a guarantee of the peace of all nations."

"France is ready to safeguard the interests of mankind. Those interests are at stake on the Rhine. It is there we must prepare to obviate painful surprises of the future. Let us watch together so that we will not lose the fruits of the common victory. Let us remain united, as we were in battle."

Foch asked who could say whether Germany, where democratic ideals are so recent, will not within a few years attempt a second world war.

The marshal related several interesting incidents in connection with the Argonne drive. He said that Gen. Pershing naturally wanted his own armies in his own sector. Foch told him the Argonne was a difficult country but that "your men have the devil's own punch; they'll get away with it; go to it."

"And now we are on the Rhine," Foch concluded with a grin. In answer to a question, Foch said the armistice came too soon, inasmuch as a great attack was prepared to be launched four days after the date on which hostilities ceased. But the Germans granted everything required in the armistice and it was inadvisable to continue, because of the useless waste of lives.

Imposing Ceremonies and Keynote Speech
by Pres. Poincare

BY ROBERT J. BENDER,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Jan. 18.—The first sitting of the peace conference today found President Wilson a partial victor in the fight for recognition of his first principle. The gag rule which was supposed to make the sessions secret has been modified and arrangements have been made for publication under certain restrictions. It may be stated that the president will continue his fight for fuller recognition of his principles. He wants more publicity.

Today's peace conference sitting was planned as a formal affair with an imposing turnout of troops, imposing ceremonies and a keynote speech by President Poincare. Long before the hour of opening crowds thronged the streets to cheer the delegates.

The King of Hedjaz, the newly recognized Arabian monarch, has been given representation.

You hold in your hands the future of the world, President Poincare of France declared in addressing the conference. Germany, he said, will rule by iron and she perished by iron.

Welcoming the delegates he thanked the nations for choosing Paris for the conference reviving war history. He dwelt especially upon the course proposed by the United States. He recommended the establishment of a league of nations.

(By United Press)

Paris, Jan. 18.—The peace conference convened for its first official sessions at 3:00 P. M. today. Delegates representing 26 nations met in the famous "clock hall" of the Quai d'Orsay. President Poincare made the opening address. The peace delegates sat at a huge horse-shoe shaped table; their secretaries at small tables nearby. This being the first session it was thrown open, and the newspaper correspondents were permitted to be present. None of the

AUSTRALIA AS AN INDEPENDENT NATION

BY JOHN DeGRANDT,
(U. P. Press Correspondent)

Paris, Jan. 18.—Australia as an independent nation has its own peace demands for consideration at the peace conference.

Premier Hughes declared today, in an interview with the United Press, Australia considers that it won its independence on the battlefield, and politically it stands now where the United States stood at the end of the revolution. It is in this spirit that it enters the peace conference with its program, he said.

tremendous issues of the peace settlement were to be taken up. The sitting was to be devoted to the formalities attendant to the convening of the most important gathering at which President Wilson, leading the peace delegation of the United States intended to put through his league of nations plan and other measures which he believes will end wars and make the world safe for civilization.

Formation of a definite policy toward Russia, involving possible recognition of the Russian soviet government, indemnities to be collected from Germany, final disposition of the German fleet, future of the German colonies, regulation of national boundaries, the demand of Greece for Constantinople, the disposition of the Holy Land, Ireland's demand for home rule and the proposition of self-determination, adjustment of national boundaries along racial lines, freedom of the seas and reductions of armaments were among the important questions confronting the peace makers as they assembled.

The delegates present represented all the nations associated in the war on Germany and in addition Peru, Ecuador, Uruguay and Bolivia which severed diplomatic relations with Germany. The Central Powers were not represented. When the peace treaty has been drawn up the delegates representing the German government and its former allies will be asked to sign.

When the conference starts regular proceedings, the league of nations will be the first issue taken up. This will be done at the insistence of President Wilson. Premier Clemenceau is the one who is expected to bring it up for discussion.

The delegates include the following:

United States—President Wilson, Secretary Lansing, Henry White, General Bliss.

Great Britain—Premier Lloyd George, Foreign Secretary Balfour, Chancellor Bonar Law, George N. Barnes.

Italy—Premier Orlando, Foreign Minister Sonnino, General Diaz.

Japan—Viscount Chinda, ambassador to Great Britain; Baron Matsui, ambassador to France.

Belgium—Foreign Minister Hyman, Emile Vandervelde, minister of justice.

Greece—Premier Venizelos and Foreign Minister Politis.

Serbia—Premier Pachitch.

"I spent six weeks in Spain. It is there, and it is quite likely to overthrow organized government of Spain. It is in France. It is everywhere among the troops. The troops in Paris have had to be constantly shifted because the people were afraid they would run riot."

Senator Hollis also said the war was not necessarily over because the armistice had been signed.

"I still feel there is very great danger that the war is not over," he said. "There is even danger of friction among the Allies. There is friction now between Italy and the Jugo-Slavs."

Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg Killed by Mobs in Berlin, Says Basel Dispatch.

MAY REKINDLE REVOLT

Hotel in Which Pair Had Taken Refuge Is Stormed—Radical Shot Trying to Escape—Woman Beaten Until Senseless.

Zurich, Jan. 18.—The spartan revolution has been revived on a large scale in Berlin and several of the provinces, following the death of Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, it was reported in a dispatch received here. The government is expected to take violent measures in an effort to suppress the new disorders. Five new divisions of government troops have arrived in Berlin. The day gives the impression of being occupied almost entirely by soldiery.

Basel, Jan. 18.—According to the Frankfurt Gazette, Dr. Karl Liebknecht has been shot and killed while trying to escape as he was being taken to prison.

It is also reported that Rosa Luxemburg, was also shot dead after being beaten into unconsciousness by a crowd at Berlin.

When it became known that Dr. Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg were at the Hotel Eden, in the western part of the city, a crowd rapidly congregated and stormed the hotel lobby to lay hands on them. Both were spirited to a side entrance, but the mob forestalled the attempt of the troops to save Fraulein Luxemburg. She was beaten into insensibility and then thrown into an automobile by the crowd, which intended to take her to prison.

A few blocks down the street, the machine was halted by a second mob and, when the presence of Fraulein Luxemburg became known, a man jumped on the running board of the car and shot her through the head. The body was dragged from the auto and carried off. It is supposed that it was thrown into the canal, but it has not been found.

In the meantime, Dr. Liebknecht was hurried into another automobile by officers and troops and the car was headed for the Moabit prison. While going through the Tiergarten, the machine was halted by a punctured tire.

Dr. Liebknecht was asked to get out by the officers, who intended to haul another automobile and continue toward the prison. While waiting, Dr. Liebknecht made an attempt to escape and was shot dead by soldiers, who had anticipated such an effort on his part.

Oil Patches Mark Grave of U-Boats Which Attacked Transport

Fear of U-boats kept the nerves of the allies taut but as the war went on and the allies perfected their defense, life on board a submarine became more and more nerve racking.

This photograph, just released by the censor, shows the effect of depth charges dropped by a destroyer on a U-boat which had attacked convoys transports. The two splashes on the surface of the water are made by oil which was driven to the surface by the air released from from the submarine when its shell was rent by powerful explosives. These oil patches marked the U-boat's grave.

Modified Form of Slavery.

There is no legal and formal slavery in any Christian country. It survives in a mild form in most Mohammedan countries. The peonage system of Latin-American countries is not much different from slavery, but rests
upon a different theory. The peon is not supposed to be owned as property;
he is supposed to be working to pay a debt which he owes the master.

"CAN I BE CURED?" SAYS
THE SUFFERER

How often have you heard that sad cry from the victims of disease. Perhaps the disorder has gone too far for help, but almost it is not in its first stage, and the patient needs only nature's first trial, the help. Do not despair. Find out the cause and give nature all the help you can and she will repay you with health. Look after the kidneys. The kidneys are the most overworked organs of the human body, and when they fail in their work of filtering and throwing off the poison that constantly accumulates in the system, everything goes wrong. GOLD MEDAL HARTMAN Oil Capsules will give almost immediate relief from kidney and bladder troubles and their kindred ailments. They will free your body from pain in short order. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. Look for the name on every box. In three sizes, sealed packages. Money refunded if they do not help you.

YANK LEARNS ECONOMY
ON THE FRONT LINES

Tells How He Learned to Save Money, Time and Even Water.

"What have I got out of the war?
Well, let's see. . . . I believe the principal lesson I'll take back to America with me will be that of economy," writes an officer with the American army in France.
"For weeks I could go without
spending a cent, and I've more money
tied up in Liberty bonds and in the bank than I ever saved before on an officer's pay, about half my civilian
salary."

"That economy worked in many ways. For one thing, I didn't spend a cent on foolish theaters, though I don't mean to say that all theaters
are a waste of time and money."

"Money for clothes was only a small item after you had your outfit, and we all tried to keep our kit in shape so that we would not have to be buying
new things all the time."

"We learned to organize our day so that we might economize in minutes,
and the time we allowed to ourselves
we spent with greatest efficiency. At least, our company officers did. We had profitable discussions, read a lot
and kept our minds on our work back
home that we would not get too rusty."

"A good example of this general economy is the many uses to which we put one pail of water. In some camps we could only be spared one small pail of water each morning. I used this for brushing my teeth, shaving, washing, sometimes sponge-bathing—and always had enough!"

"It's a question if we change when we get home. I don't think we shall,
and that's something to be hoped for."

Warm Combination.

On a cold winter day Dr. Horatio
C. Wood, Sr., noted specialist and medical writer, was chatting with his friend, the late Dr. Horace Howard
Furness, the eminent Shakespearean scholar. A third man approached,
whereupon, with a laugh, Doctor Wood
said: "Doctor Furness, let me present
Mr. Cole. Surely the three of us can
now forget the cold."

Prominent Women Who Manage "Ole Cloes" Shop in New York's Fifth Avenue District

MRS. STANLEY LYMAN OTIS

MRS. CHARLES S. WHITMAN

Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, wife of the former governor of New York, might not want it to be put that way but she is in the "ole cloes" business. The facts are these. She is manager of what a number of prominent women call their "reclamation shop" just opened in the heart of New York's Fifth Avenue district. Associated with her is Mrs. Stanley Lyman Otis. Their purpose is to impress upon women that they must not forget the economies made necessary by wartime conditions. Volunteer women workers make old clothing, furniture and other material look just as good as new. Men discharged from military service are being outfitted at a fraction of the prices charged at men's shops.

WOMAN'S REALM

McCLARAN-SMITH NUPTIALS

Brainerd Girl, Miss Lillian Smith Married to Melville L. McClaran in Washington, D. C.

At high noon today, at St. Patrick's rectory in the city of Washington, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Lillian Colette Smith to Mr. Melville Lewis McClaran, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. McClaran of Duluth, Minnesota. The bride, a daughter of Mrs. James Smith of this city, was very charming in a Paquin model of blackberry pan velvet, chinchilla trimmed, with hat of grey georgette and corsage of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Smith's attendant, her sister Miss Gertrude Katherine, was attired in a suit of taupe broadcloth and hat of moleskin and georgette. She wore a corsage of Cecil Bruner roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Mr. McClaran was attended by Captain A. S. Dunning of Duluth.

The ceremony was followed by a luncheon at the New Willard, at which the following guests were present: Misses Gertrude K. Smith and Bertha T. Mahlum of this city; the Misses Vivian Reilly and Marion Anderson of Detroit, Minn.; Miss Lillian Morey, Captain A. S. Dunning and B. M. Dougherty of Duluth; Captain Robert H. Kellher of Boston, and Captain James Forrester and Lowry Smith of St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. McClaran departed on the four o'clock Congressional Limited for New York City, where they will remain for several days, after which they will go by boat to Florida. After spending several weeks there at the McClaran home, Mr. and Mrs. McClaran will return to Duluth, their future home.

"COFFEES" A SUCCESS

Ladies of Finnish Circle, American Red Cross, Obtain Tidy Sum From Socials

The series of "coffees" conducted by the ladies of the Finnish Circle, American Red Cross in Southeast Brainerd during the past year have proven not only pleasant social affairs but a financial success as well. They have collected through this avenue the sum of $159.77 for Red Cross work. Of this amount, $21.68 was spent to send Christmas boxes to Finnish boys engaged in the war, the balance being turned in to the Brainerd Chapter as a benefit fund.

The "coffees" were held at different homes in the neighborhood under the supervision of Mrs. E. Ritari and Mrs. Andrew Karhu and have done much to continue the interest in the work, as they brought together prominent Finnish ladies who have been active in Red Cross circles during the year.

Cudney-Sorenson

Miss LaVerne G. Cudney and Martin Sorenson were married on Saturday noon at the Swedish Lutheran parsonage by Rev. Eloy G. Carlson, witnesses to the pleasing ceremony being the Misses Amy Erickson and Kate Cudney. They are popular young people and will make their home in Brainerd.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Sunday

Olive Tell, who will be seen as the star in "Secret Strings," the Metro play which will be the attraction at the Best theatre on Sunday, is considered one of the most exquisitely gowned women on the American stage and fully lives up to this reputation in her wardrobe used in this play.

"Secret Strings" is a picture of the summertime so her dresses are of the sports and garden variety, although she is seen in a stunning street gown of blue tricot. Two of her evening frocks are worth mentioning—one, a black file-lace heavily embroidered, which is draped loosely over black satin and caught up at the side with a red poppy, the other, a white filmy net over silver cloth with which she wears a magnificent rope of real pearls. Both gowns are the latest of New York styles designed by a famous modiste of that city.

Marie Wainwright, who plays the part of Mrs. de Giles is also notable for beautiful clothes, and as the stately matron of the production her brocades and laces, not to mention the jewels which she wears, suggest richness and extreme good taste.

Drama League Meeting

Delayed on account of the "flu" ban, the first meeting of the Drama League was held this week at the home of Mrs. Irma Hartley.

Mrs. Ray Gould was elected secretary, and the question of whether or not the dues should be decreased on account of the late start was quickly disposed of by all members present paying their yearly dues of one dollar promptly and cheerfully.

The club then voted to offer a prize of five dollars for the best one-act farce presented by April first, 1919, no limit being placed on age, residence or previous condition of training of contestants.

The drama read was "Madam Sand," by Philip Moeller. Before beginning the drama, Mrs. A. D. Polk read a most discriminating paper on the life and work of this noted and notorious genius, whose numerous affairs of the heart seemed to serve to stimulate her literary output. Mrs. Polk summed up the estimate placed upon George Sand's work by the critics and contemporaries of her time and concluded that Mr. Moeller's play did her scant justice.

The following is the program for the balance of the year:

Jan. 27—"Misalliance" (Bernard Shaw) Mesdames R. J. and Irma Hartley.

Feb. 10—"Talk on 'The Negro Players'"—Mrs. G. W. Mosier.

"Granny Maumee" (Ridgely Torrence)—Mrs. C. L. Burnett.

Feb. 24—"Karen Boreman" (Hjalmar Bergstrom)—Mrs. Gemmell and Mrs. Thabes.

March 19—"The Witching Hour" (Thomas)—Mesdames F. A. Farrar and R. R. Gould.

March 24—"Fannies First Play" (Shaw)—Mesdames F. H. Simpson and G. S. Swanson.

April 7—"The Newly Married" (Bjornson)—Mesdames R. A. Beise and Carl Zapffe.

"A Gauntlet" (Bjornson)—Mrs. Geo. LaBar.

April 21—"An original farce.

If there are any members who wish to withdraw from the club, please notify the secretary, so that those on the waiting list can be elected at the next meeting.

SECRECY EDICT HELD UP

Correspondents May Be Admitted to Peace Council Sessions.

At Instance of President Wilson Rule to Bar Newspaper Men Is Held in Abeyance.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The Supreme Inter-Allied council, at the instance of President Wilson, has decided to hold in abeyance the proposed rule for virtual secrecy regarding its deliberations beyond information given in official statements.

It was also decided to request representatives of the British, American and Italian press to present some plan for reporting the meeting.

It was said in American circles here that the stir caused by the previous action was not at all unwelcome to the British and American officials who were willing to work for a broader rule which would open the proceedings to public view.

British correspondents adopted resolutions asking that one British press representative be admitted to sittings of the congress. Americans correspondents also adopted resolutions declaring they would be satisfied with nothing less than free access to all deliberations.

These resolutions were brought before a meeting at which were present representatives of the press from all the nations associated in the war against Germany. A committee was appointed to report a plan of reporting the deliberations which will be presented to the peace delegates. The proposition to make details of the meeting of correspondents secret was rejected.

FRENCH DENY CENSORSHIP

News Dispatches Allowed to Go to Allied Nations.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The semi-official Temps, regarding the question of publicity of the proceedings of the peace conference, says the French censor is exercising no control over news destined for the Allied or the associated countries.

"Certain dispatches sent from Paris to American newspapers," it remarks, "insinuate that the French government exercises control over all news relative to the conference and over all means of communication with other countries. These allegations are erroneous."

Berlin, Jan. 18.—With the elections to the national assembly less than four days off the Bourgeois parties are bending every effort to rally both male and female voters in a gigantic protest against bolshevism. The spartan ebullition in Berlin, however, has brought about a revision of the election estimates.

Arnold could not bear to have anything that smacked of femininity applied to himself or his tiny baby brother. One day Arnold was keeping his eye on the baby carriage while the mother stepped into the apartment. A woman passing looked into the carriage and seeing the infant said: "Isn't she a sweet child?" Arnold, indignant, replied: "He ain't no she; it's a him."

Praises Women Rail Workers.

Washington, Jan. 18.—High praise for women railroad employees is contained in the annual report of the Railroad administration's division of labor, directed by W. S. Carter, made public. Between January 1 and October 1 last year the number of women workers on American railroads increased from 60,000 to 101,000, constituting about five per cent of the 2,000,000 rail employees. Practically all of these are anxious to remain permanently, officials report.

An Improvement.

A young guardsman called the other day on a certain financier, who insisted on showing him over his magnificent private house, informing him not only where he purchased every article in it but the price he paid for it. When he had finished he asked his visitor if he could suggest any improvement in the arrangement of the house. "Well," was the reply, "if you were to mark all the goods in plain figures it would save you a good deal of trouble."

EXTEND FRENCH BORDER TO RHINE

Marshal Foch Wants River at Barrier Between Germany and France.

PRAISES YANK TROOPS

Allied Commander-in-Chief Receives American Newspaper Correspondents After Negotiating New Armistice Terms.

Treves, Jan. 18.—Marshal Foch entertains the conviction that the Rhine must be made the barrier between Germany and France. He made this clear when he received American newspaper correspondents.

The marshal is here in connection with the meeting concerning the extension of the German armistice.

Marshal Foch pointed out the difficulties that had been overcome and said that peace must be commensurate with the price of victory. Germany now was beaten, he added, but with her resources, especially in men, recuperation in a comparatively short time was possible. It was now the duty of the Allies, he said, to prevent further aggressions.

Marshal Foch praised the work of the American troops and said that General Pershing had asked that the American forces be concentrated for an attack on one sector. The Allied generalissimo admitted that the Aronne-Meuse front, where the Americans began their offensive on September 26, was a "sector hard to tackle." The marshal said he had told General Pershing: "Your men have the devil's own punch. They will get away with all that. Go to it."

Truce Did Not Come Too Soon.

The armistice was not concluded too soon and the Allies got all they asked for from Germany without continuing the fighting. The Allies, the marshal said, were prepared for another offensive stroke which would have forced the Germans to give up. This was to have been made in Lorraine on November 14, with six American and 20 French divisions.

"This is for me," Marshal Foch began, "a happy opportunity to tell you all the good things I think of the American army and of the part it played on our side. Your soldiers were enthusiastic and carried forward by a vigorous idealism, they marched to battle with admirable gallantry."

"Yes, they were superb. There is no other word. When they appeared our armies were, as you know, fatigued by three years of relentless struggle and the mantle of war laid heavily upon them. We were magnificently comforted by the virility of your Americans."

TROUBLE BREWING IN SPAIN

Premier Romanones Says Barcelona Is Storm Center.

Madrid, Jan. 18.—Premier Romanones after a meeting of the Spanish cabinet, told the newspaper correspondents that he would not be surprised at anything which would happen in Barcelona. The cabinet, he said, had discussed the situation in Barcelona, which was quite abnormal. Count Romanones informed the cabinet that the trouble at Barcelona arose from the hostility of the Nationalists to the military and the latter's refusal to tolerate Nationalist disturbances.

WESTERN SIBERIA SUFFERS

Doctors, Nurses and Medical Supplies Are Sorely Needed.

Vladivostok, Jan. 18.—There is urgent need for doctors, nurses and medical supplies in Western Siberia, declared Dr. Arthur Rudolph Tessler, head of the Czech-Slovak medical service, who arrived here from Ekaterinburg and Omsk. The spread of typhus and the coming of 200,000 Russian soldiers formerly imprisoned in Austria and Germany, the doctor said, will tax every agency to the utmost.

Accidents On Great Lakes.

Detroit, Jan. 18.—Anxiety to put forth maximum efforts in the transportation of commodities necessary for the winning of the war was probably responsible for the unusually large number of accidents on the Great Lakes during the 1918 navigation season, according to the annual report of the advisory committee of the Great Lakes' Protective association, which presented at the recent meeting of the association here.

DAILY HEALTH TALKS

What Doctor Pierce Has Done For Humanity!

BY DOCTOR CRIEPPS.

It has always seemed to me that Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., should be placed near the top when a list of America's great benefactors is written. He studied and conquered human diseases to a degree that few realize. Whenever he found a remedy that overcame disease, he at once announced it in the newspapers and told where it could be bought at a small price. He did not follow the usual custom of keeping the ingredients secret, so that the rich only could afford to buy the medicine, but openly printed the name of each root and herb he used. And so to-day the names of Dr. Pierce and his medicines are widely known, and they stand for better health and better citizenship.

One of this great physician's most successful remedies is known as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These are little, sugar-coated pills, composed of Mayapple, leaves of aloë, root of jalap—things that Nature grows in the ground. These Pellets are safe because they move the bowels gently, leaving no bad after-effects, as so many pills do. Very often they make a person who takes them feel like a new man or woman, for they cleanse the intestines of hard, decayed and poisonous matter that accumulates when one is constive. If you are constipated, by all means go to your druggist and get some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They may prove to be the very thing your system requires to make you well and happy.

second appearance of the Lord Jesus Christ. If you are looking for more light on this important subject, you will be greatly helped by attending the services. P. Alfred Peterson, pastor.

Complete Action.

Papa—Bobby, if you had a little more spunk you would stand better in your class. Now, do you know what spunk is?
 Bobby—Yes, sir. It's the past participle of spunk.

Making Him Feel Better.

"There's a man outside who says he's your tailor and wants to see you about a bill."
 "Tell him I've gone to attend the funeral of a rich relative from whom I expect to inherit a great deal of money."
 "Have you lost a relative, sir?"
 "No; but that fellow has been here so many times I feel I ought to say something that will make him feel better."

Important Consideration.

"Would you say that she is good-looking?"
 "That depends."
 "On what?"
 "On whether I was speaking of her face or to her face."

The Paramour Interest.
 "Hunter tells me he's going to marry an heiress. I asked what her age was, and he couldn't say."
 "My boy, it isn't her age Hunter is interested in; it's her heritage."

The Thorny Path of Love.
 Gert—Mayme complains that her feet's love is like a red, red rose.
 Myrt—Gee, that's funny; ain't it true and all that sort of thing?
 Gert—Oh, yes, but the trouble is it makes him stick around.

Why Delay?
 "Take this medicine," said the young doctor. "If it doesn't cure you, come back in a few days and I shall give you something that will." The patient pocketed the dope reluctantly. In a few moments he returned. "If you don't mind, doc, I'll take some of that that will cure me right away."

NO TROUBLE SINCE

Mr. Ellison's Statement is Most Convincing Evidence

When Mr. Ellison endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills he told of having received complete relief. Now Mr. Ellison tells how years have passed without any return of kidney trouble. Results that last are results that count. Brainerd people should gain by the experience of Chas. Ellison, 512 So. Quince St. He says: "My kidneys were disordered for several years and I seemed to gradually get worse. Nearly a year ago I was taken with awful pains in my back. I had to stop work and go to bed. Medicine patched me up somewhat and I got out in a few weeks but still had the old trouble and suffered severely. I began to take Doan's Kidney Pills and a few boxes put me in good shape. I could then work comfortably."

On November 5, 1917, Mr. Ellison said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me some years ago is still permanent. I am glad to again recommend them."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ellison had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Do Something Better Than the Other Fellow---

and ADVERTISE

Advertising cannot accomplish the impossible any more than barren ground can yield rich crop.

But how advertising does make things hum when the product and proposition are right, the men and methods above board, when there's an honest purpose and earnest effort from bundle boy to general manager to serve efficiency, to deal honestly, to sell good goods, to price fairly.

Oil up the machinery of your business, imbue your organization with the spirit of true service, make your business worthy of the good will, the confidence, the patronage of the people.

In this fertile field then sow the seed of advertising and it will bring forth abundant crops in increased business and augmented prestige.

Your store news in the Dispatch will be read in practically every home in Brainerd and vicinity every evening.

Salary of Chief Executive.

The compensation of the president of the United States is fixed by congress, and may not be increased or diminished during the existing presidential term, that is, any increase or reduction of the salary or emoluments of the office can only take effect at the next term. The original salary of the office was $25,000 a year, increased in 1873 to $50,000, and in 1909 to $75,000.

Halibut.

The name "halibut" is composed of two Scandinavian words meaning flatfish of the deep. That derivation is found in the dictionaries, but the term first appears in the ancient legends as "hagfish," which signifies a holy messenger, one who is sent to relieve suffering or save either body or soul.

CHIEF JOHN D. GILE IN MIDNIGHT EXPLOIT

Summoned by Mayor to Take Bank Robber from Train Friday Night, Goes Heavily Armed

WAS ROUTED OUT OF BED

Surprise of His Life When the Chief and the Rest of the Department Gain the Coach

It was near the midnight hour Friday night when the telephone at Chief John D. Gile's home gave a regular tattoo of noise and awoke the head of the police force who had just turned in for a decent sleep and had got his pillow comfortably warmed up.

He hopped out of bed on one foot and made for the phone and this conversation took place:

"Is this you, John?" asked Mayor R. A. Beise.

"Yes," said the chief.

"Well," continued the mayor, "go right down to the night train from St. Paul. There's a bank robber on board. Take your gun and handcuffs along and don't fail to land the man."

"You can count on me," said the chief. "I'll never let him get away."

The chief had but 15 minutes left to get dressed, make the train and line up the rest of the force which included Officer Scott armed with two rapid firing Colts and Officer Ludlow with his club and gun.

They made the depot platform and surrounded the train when it came in. The chief saw the conductor and he said the robber was in the last day coach. The brakie corroborated that testimony.

With Scott at one end of the car and Ludlow at the other to guard exits, the chief walked down the aisle with his gun ready for action. He passed a group of traveling men and others and they whispered "There he is down at the end of the coach."

The chief marched on and somebody grabbed his arm and said quietly: "Hello, Dad!" It was a fellow in uniform, his own son, coming home on furlough.

Then the Brainerd crowd in the car which included C. W. Mahlum, Fritz Hagberg, George West and others roared out:

"Well, you caught the man!"

It was all a joke perpetrated by the Brainerd fellows on the train returning from St. Paul who met Mr. Gile's son, John B. Gile, returning home on a 15 days' furlough. Young Gile is a bootmaker who learned the trade in Brainerd and then put in time in Staples and there enlisted when war was declared. He has served 19 months on a torpedo boat, the Jarvis, which saw a lot of the war. In one encounter with a sub the Jarvis had 25 feet of her nose torn off and managed to make shore.

After the signing of the armistice Gile was on a dispatch boat running from Dover to Brest. He recently returned to the Philadelphia navy yards and there got his furlough.

At St. Paul he met the Brainerd men on their way home and they said some kind of a joke had to be played on his father. So County Auditor C. W. Mahlum evolved the bank robber hoax and at Little Falls telephoned to Mayor Beise to rout out the bootmaker's father. It was done and most successfully too.

Young Gile has a whole satchel full of souvenirs. He took snap shots during the war and they are all most interesting. He saw the German fleet surrendered and has many pictures of the ships.

He presented his father with a ring and the stickpin he made out of silver coin. He gave his mother two fifty dollar bills. All together it was a happy homecoming and the way it was announced and brought down to the train to greet his sailor man will not be forgotten for a long time.

IN DISTRICT COURT

In district court before Judge W. S. McClenahan the case of Charles McDonald vs. the Cuyuna Range Power Co. was dismissed on motion of the defendant, following a lengthy argument by Attorney F. E. Ebner that the plaintiff had failed to establish a cause of action.

McDonald had sued for $25,000, personal damages, alleging he had fallen down a trench on lands of the power company while walking along a path on such land. The trench was some three or four feet from the path. Charles Scrutehin of Bemidji, colored attorney, represented McDonald.

Court then adjourned to Monday morning. In the next case, Alfred Lambert vs. Unity Lodge No. 194, a corporation, Attorney W. H. Crowell for the defense, was sick at his home and it is expected to take up the case later by the court.

N. P. DEPOT PICTURE AT CHAMBER COMMERCE

W. H. Gemmell has placed an exhibition in the reading room of the Chamber of Commerce, a picture showing the track side elevation of the new passenger station to be constructed in Brainerd in the spring; also photographs showing exterior and interior views of the new Jamestown station, which show in a general way what the general appearance of the fine building that will soon accommodate the traveling public of Brainerd, will be.

The new depot will occupy a site extending from Sixth St. west to Fourth street, north of the tracks, such a location doing away with any blocking of crossings by trains in that section of the business district.

The building will measure 40 by 162 feet in size and be virtually three stories and basement. Porches at east and west ends will measure 40 by 36 feet.

Among those pleading guilty were Vinko Vinkolich, Rinko Zerich and Joseph Caron.

Pleas of not guilty were entered by Arthur Lovdahl, Vaso Radosovich, Joseph Bolenic, Mike M. Brown, John Coff, Rose Dunovich, Mike Stimich, Victoria Stimich.

NEW ERA MOVEMENT

Rev. W. J. Lowrie, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Delegate to Minneapolis Convention

The pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. J. Lowrie, returned from Minneapolis Thursday evening where he had been as a delegate to the conference of the New Era Movement held in the Westminster church. There were about five hundred ministers and laymen in attendance from four states, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

This movement is the result of the world war and its task is to unite the 1,631,000 Presbyterians in the U. S. in a close fellowship for the great aims of the church. It is essentially a spiritual force for the cultivating of personal and home religion, reviving the family altar, sending the gospel to the nations far and wide, and administering practical comfort and aid to those in need. "The World for Christ" is the inscription on its banner.

The movements proposes to raise $15,000,000 for benevolences this year and $27,000,000 for local church expenses. Its budget is $10,000,000 for the year. This is not a very much larger sum than was raised last year by the church for its missions, hospitals, orphanages, academies, colleges and local work but it seems a great sum because placed in one budget. Mr. Lowrie was placed in charge of the work in Red River Presbytery.

LIEUT. GERALD BARRON WRITES FROM FRANCE

Tells John J. Cummins it's Good to Sit Down and Write After the Boche Has Been Trimmed

SPECIAL DUTY INSTRUCTOR

Missed the Final Drive on Metz by a Couple of Hours, Were to be in Assaulting Wave

Lieut. Gerald V. Barron, writing from Laneuville, France, to John J. Cummins, says:

Laneuville, France,

Nov. 25, 1918.

Dear Friend John:

It seems good to be able to sit down (now that the Boche is trimmed) and write to my old friends that fit across my vision as I smoke the old pipe by a real French fireplace on these raw November evenings.

I am not with my company at present but on special duty as divisional instructor in French mortars in the town of Laneuville about eight kilometers (5 miles) from the city of Toul. Rolly is here as instructor in machine gun work so we get together frequently.

Since my arrival in France have traveled many miles over the country, seen service on the Belfort front and missed the final drive on Metz by a matter of hours. We had orders on the night of the tenth of November to proceed to Thiaucourt about 20 miles southwest of Metz.

We were to be in support of a brigade of the 7th division and later to move forward effecting a passage of lines to form the assaulting wave. The armistice was signed the morning of the 11th but the night of the 10th we slept "light" ready to step out on a moment's notice carrying only "cats" and "shooting stuff."

Up to eleven o'clock on the 11th we could hear the roar of the Yank batteries up in the line giving old Fritz the parting send-off and believe me, Jack, it was some send-off. Seemed as though the Yank gunners were bound to let the hun have everything they had left in the ammunition dumps. Promptly at the stroke of eleven the firing ceased as if by magic all along the line. Then in a few moments the news was flashed by wireless that the Boche had yelled "Quit."

The bells in the town hall pealed out, the church bells in the old towers picked it up and everybody turned out and celebrated, although it was hard to realize that it was over. The same thought was in everybody's mind. "It sure like to be in old New York today!"

Some of you may be interested in knowing how our national army compares with the old regular army and National Guard. I have seen every type of soldier the American army has and the National Army men don't take their hat off to any of them. Of course they were green to start with but they learned fast and maybe we didn't get a swell bunch of non-coms out of that bunch. There is no more distinction now between the different regiments. The old regular army units have long ago been filled up with National Army replacement troops and the same applies to the Guard. But the traditions of the old Regular didn't suffer by the infusion of the new blood. The American soldier of today is recognized as the best fighting man the Allies have. He is crazy to fight—show him where the fight is and he'll do the rest. It's easy to lead a bunch like that. They'd go to hell in a minute for you if they knew the Boche were there—and believe me, they'd make it hot for him!

We are all anxious to get back again in God's country but all realize there's lots to be done over here yet and I know we'll appreciate the old U. S. more for every day we stay here. France has always been painted as a land of romance and sunshine, but we've found that the sun never shines and the "doughboy" can't see any romance in the oceans of mud which cover every street.

Saw Sam English at Toul last week. I was down with a detail to officiate at the funeral of Lieut. Edward Murphy of Two Harbors, Minn., who was killed by a piece of shrapnel from a French mortar shell here. Sam was looking fine and it sure seemed good to see him.

Well Jack, greet the old bunch for me. This ought to reach you about Xmas. Merry Xmas to you and all the old bunch and sure would appreciate a letter.

LIEUT. HENRY C. MILLS

Writes Dispatch of Seeing a Brainerd News Item in the London Daily Mail at Paris

In a letter to the Dispatch, 1st Lieut. Henry C. Mills, Co. L, 351st Infantry, A. E. F., A. P. O. 795, writes from Paris:

"Thought it might be of interest to you to know the wide circulation the Brainerd Dispatch news has. I cut the attached article out of the London Daily Mail an English paper printed in Paris:

Brainerd, Minn.—Papers are being circulated here for the nomination of Mr. Ezra Smith for municipal judge.

"Brainerd and its sand will look good to me after wading in French mud since I arrived in this country. "Am on a short leave of absence and going to Lyon and Nice, after which I will go to Germany with no news of going home. Kindest regards."

PVT. ANTON SWANSON WILL SOON BE HOME

Writes of the Glowing Reception Given the Regiment When They Arrived at Chicago

ENTERTAINED AT CLEVELAND

Red Cross Fed Them and Was Good to the Boys all Along the Route, Men Now at Camp Grant

In his letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Swanson, 901 South Sixth street, Private Anton Swanson, Brainerd Dispatch printer, who served in the war in Europe and is now on his way back to demobilization camp, pays a high tribute to what the Red Cross is doing in meeting returning soldiers on all trains and giving them refreshments.

Private Swanson writes from Camp Grant, Ill., Jan. 14th:

"Well, here I am in this camp after a fine trip from Camp Mills in Pullman sleepers. It's the same old camp where we started from and the place we will get out of the army."

"You ought to have seen the time we had in Chicago January 13. They sure did show us a great time. We got there at 8 in the morning and went to the Coliseum where we stayed until 11. We paraded around the town and you ought to have seen the people. There were 22 bands along the route and all the schools were yelling their songs and with that and the whistles tooting there was some noise.

"We were met after the parade by the Chicago city band and went to the Hotel Sherman where we had a four course dinner, and entertainment by some of Chicago's singers, etc. They gave us cigars and cigarettes after dinner, so we all smoked and sang songs. From there we went to the Schubert theatre where there was a fine play and we all enjoyed it.

After the show back to the hotel for supper, more entertainment, cigars and cigarettes. The Chicago city band played when we were eating. There was a speaker that gave us a great speech and he sure was good. He told them what Germany was.

"We then went to the Coliseum, where there was a big dance for the soldiers and we sure had a good time until 11 o'clock. The Red Cross was there and gave us coffee, doughnuts, coffee cake, ice cream, lemonade, pie, candy, cigarettes until the fellows couldn't eat any more and then they had their pockets full of good stuff. It was a great day and we all gave three cheers for the Red Cross, the Rotary Club of Chicago. Believe me, the Red Cross is the one to help as they are all over.

"At Cleveland the night before we got off the train where we got coffee, pie, cookies and candy, so you see they are all over.

"We got on the Pullman sleepers last night at about 1 o'clock and we all were pretty tired, so we went right to sleep, believe me. Got up this morning at 7 and were here at Camp Grant.

"I heard we are going to parade in Rockford, Ill. one of these days and that means more good things. The reason why the big time was for us, was that most of the fellows in this regiment live in Chicago and lots of them met their folks at the Coliseum, so there was a happy bunch.

"The weather here is fine and I hope it keeps up as we are not used to cold weather. When we left Bordeaux everything was green and the flowers were blooming. I suppose it's kind of cold at home and the old heater going. These barracks are steam heated and nice and warm.

"I don't know how long we will be here, but it won't be long. I guess. The papers in Chicago say we will be

Pneumonia Menace

This dreadful sickness has claimed thousands of victims every winter. It usually is an after effect of a cold and naturally is most common at this time of year when colds are prevalent.

People are careless. They think they have to have colds and so take them as a matter of course. But colds indicate a serious situation. They show that the lungs, kidneys and skin pores are being overworked to dispose of poisons created by fermenting food-waste due to constipation. If they only would keep the bowels active and open this condition would not exist and the danger would be vastly less.

Your druggist has a new, really pleasant tasting salt called SALINOS, which will completely empty the digestive bowel, where most of the poisons are formed. It is pleasant both in taste and action. Get a bottle for a Quarter (larger size Fifty cents and a Dollar). BE SAFE! Take SALINOS first thing tomorrow morning.

DON'T CARE MUCH WHO IS SPEAKER

CONGRESSMEN DISPLAY LITTLE INTEREST IN THE MANN-GILLET CONTEST.

PLACE SHORN OF ITS POWER

Delegate Wickersham Winner of Alaska Election Contest, Gets Busy at Once—Representatives Putting in Orders for German Cannon.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—There is a lagging interest in the contest for speaker. In fact there is little evidence of any such contest, which is contrary to the condition that usually exists when a speaker is to be elected and two or more candidates are in the field. There is a mention from time to time that certain delegations have promised to vote for Mr. Mann and that other members are pledged to Mr. Gillett. The fact is that since the speaker was shorn of much of his power the members care very little who sits up in the high chair. No longer is the selection of members of the various committees in the hands of the speaker. That reform was made eight years ago by the Democrats and it is certain that the Republicans will never go back to the old style and give the speaker the command which he exercised over the affairs of the house through the power to appoint committees and also to control legislation by dominating the committee on rules. Those reforms have come to stay and as a consequence the members do not care very much who is speaker.

In the hurly-burly of war times the country has forgotten the big campaign upon which it entered for the building of roads with national government aid. In all probability this subject will again come to the front. In fact there are rumblings of good roads legislation heard in committees of congress and occasionally a bill is reported having for its object the favorable action by the government on road legislation.

Jim Mann is much the same as ever, and it is evident that he has regained his health. He is in the house every day and takes part in everything that goes on. He does not talk as much or as often as he did in other days, but he lets nothing go through that he does not inquire about or upon which he does not express his views.

Delegate Wickersham of Alaska wasted no time after winning his election contest. That contest had been pending during the whole time of the Sixty-fifth congress and was decided in Wickersham's favor when only two months were left of the life of the congress. Wickersham was sworn in a few minutes after the house decided in his favor, and introduced a resolution the next day. He did not enjoy an official status while his fight was on, and he will now be entitled to about $14,000 back pay, as well as mileage and other allowances, and mileage at 20 cents per mile each way between Alaska and Washington is a tidy sum.

Congressmen are putting in their orders for the spoils of war while the time is ripe. In two days recently 27 members of the house introduced bills providing for the distribution of a total of 147 German cannon to various towns, colleges and organizations in their districts. Some of these congressmen asked for only one or two cannon. They have not hit their stride yet. One of them introduced bills accounting for 41 guns. A couple of others put in bids for 25 each. The same thing occurred after the Civil war. Hundreds of towns all over the country have Civil war cannon on their public squares today. Those old pieces make a better appearance than the new ones will, and there will be no picturesque round cannon balls to go with the spoils of this war.

The civil service commission is urging that war workers who are being laid off now shall be employed by the census bureau in conducting the 1920 census. That would be a temporary solution of what to do with these war workers, most of whom have the status of regular, permanent government employees, but the 1920 census will not require a large force very long. However, it would give the government several months in which to try to figure out some other way of making provision for the war workers.

English Underground Canal.

The most remarkable canal in the world is the one between Worsley and St. Helen's, in the north of England. It is 16 miles long and underground from end to end. In Lancashire the coal mines are very extensive, half the county being undermined. Many years ago the managers of the duke of Bridgewater's estates thought they could save money by transporting coal underground instead of on the surface; therefore, the canal was constructed and the mines connected and drained at the same time.

Ordinary canal boats are used, the power being furnished by men, says an exchange. The tunnel arch over the canal is provided with crosspieces, and the men who do the work of propulsion lie on their backs on the loads of coal and push their feet against the cross-bars of the roof.

CANADIAN OFFICER SHOWS SOME SPEED

Standing on the parapet of a trench, the last surviving man of his party, with machine gun bullets dropping like hail around him, Lieut. Frank Badgley of the Canadian field artillery was responsible for the success of the Canadians in the fight for Regina trench during the battle of the Somme on November 30, 1916, and was decorated by King George with the Military Cross. Yet only a few days ago, when it came to asking a beautiful young lady to be his bride, the gallant Canadian faltered.

The signing of the armistice and the victory had, however, seemingly spurred the lieutenant to further efforts, for on the night of the ball, Miss June Elvidge, a well-known moving picture star, looked so radiantly beautiful that the lieutenant summoned up all his courage and asked her to be his bride, and within 44 hours Miss Elvidge had changed her name to Mrs. Badgley.

Protect Your Car From Freezing

DON'T worry all winter about your radiator freezing. Use Johnson's Freeze-Proof—then forget there is such a thing as a frozen radiator. Johnson's Freeze-Proof does not evaporate, so one application lasts all winter.

JOHNSON'S FREEZE-PROOF

is easy to use—is non-inflammable—inexpensive and guaranteed. It raises the boiling point of water 20° to 40°.

Read This Guarantee!

We guarantee that Johnson's Freeze-Proof has no more effect than water on the metals of the radiator or on rubber.

If Johnson's Freeze-Proof is used according to the simple directions in the proportion shown on our scale, it will absolutely protect your radiator against damage from freezing.

We do not guarantee Johnson's Freeze-Proof when used in cars with aluminum manifolds, although it has been used satisfactorily in hundreds of them. Water alone often has an injurious effect on aluminum.

Directions Must Be Followed

Johnson's Freeze-Proof will give perfect satisfaction if used according to the directions on the label. It requires just a little time and care to comply with these instructions—then your worry is over for the whole winter.

- 1st—Clean all dirt, scale, sediment, etc., from the cooling system by using a boiling solution of ordinary washing soda. Flush out thoroughly.
- 2nd—Repair all leaks. Unless hose connections are new, replace them. Tighten all packing and gaskets.

Don't let cold weather catch you unprepared—buy Johnson's Freeze-Proof now—read and follow the directions carefully—and get your cooling system in shape for the long, hard winter.

$1.50 Protects a Ford

One package of Johnson's Freeze-Proof (cost $1.50) will protect a Ford to 5° below zero, and two packages to 50° below zero. For larger radiators, or to protect to a lower temperature, use additional Freeze-Proof according to the scale on the package.
